But it is a good movie, with elements of comedy, romance and drama." Rajeev Masand of "CNN-IBN" gave the film a rating of 2 out of 5 and wrote that "This film, which follows a handful of women as they search for their own happily ever after, is not bad. But it's not great either. It's just okay. That's because despite having four actresses as its leads – Manisha Koirala, Juhi Chawla, Karisma Kapoor and Dimple Kapadia – Kis Kisko Pyaar Karoon lacks any one central character we can root for. And we're supposed to care about them all equally. The movie tries to make us connect with them by showing each girl's husband and how close they are. But we don't get nearly enough screen time with the men. It's not enough for us to get an idea of who they are and what makes them tick." "Indo-Asian News Service" wrote that "Kis Kisko Pyaar Karoon falls into the trap of Bollywood mediocrity; it suffers from a lack of imagination and is full of clichés.
